1	All house holds should be encouraged to compost at home either through equipment subsidies or education. More so for rural dwellings and farms.	6/24/2022 1:32 PM
2	In Casino, they have 3bins, 1 green waste, red rubbish, yellow recycle. Each fortnight they pick up a different bin. For those people who are not Gardners or have a space for composting, it is really great. In kyogle, the one bin is not enough for a family each week.	6/24/2022 7:17 AM
3	I think is odd and somewhat insane that we drive around In a massive truck using crazy amounts or other energy resources to collect food scraps.	6/23/2022 7:42 PM
4	I grow a very small portion of my own vegetables	6/23/2022 6:45 PM
5	Rural areas can produce more green waste and weed waste. Not all of us are in a situation to manage all of this waste within our own property. I would hugely appreciate this service.	6/22/2022 1:39 PM
6	The green bin service is operating in MOOBALL. There is no reason not to extend it to Crabbes Creek. It's an extra 5 minutes drive. It's also wrong that upper Crabbes Creek past the Pymble valley turnoff does not get their bins collected from their property as the road is sealed and there is a turning circle for the trucks to turn round at the end of the road. All the recent road works trucks turn around up there so there is no reason the tip trucks can't.	6/20/2022 8:09 PM
7	I like to grow my own veggies but time is a constraint and it is often more expensive	6/19/2022 9:19 AM
8	Not all our food scraps can go into our compost and worm farm. Some times we have more scraps/garden waste than can be used by our curent worm farm & compost bin	6/17/2022 2:54 PM
9	I would like to know if environmental weeds such as Madeira vine can go into compost.	6/16/2022 5:48 PM
10	You asked rural residence this a few months ago and the nays won the vote.	6/14/2022 6:09 PM
11	Usually, but not recently, due to family illness.	6/5/2022 8:46 PM

13	We're so far out of council range we're not gonna get a garbage service lol (Tyringham, NSW)	6/5/2022 4:36 PM
14	I would refuse to pay green waste in rates as I have compost bays, worm farm and chooks. Then use green waste for fire or will burn it	6/5/2022 3:33 PM
15	We don't have a kerbside collection and take our separated waste and recycling to the tip. We try to compost but we don't do a good job. It would be better to go to a bulk processor, but we are a long way out of town and it may not be viable.	6/2/2022 4:51 PM
16	a family often has food waste that shouldn't go into compost, a worm farm is inadequate	5/31/2022 7:43 PM

18	i dont know what to do with my meat scraps eg chicken carcass	5/30/2022 7:32 PM
19	Of course it is easier to place food waste into landfill bins.. does not mean it is the right thing to do.	5/30/2022 4:08 PM
20	If we had kerbside collection I'd rather it was for rubbish - but our road isn't suited to garbage trucks	5/30/2022 2:20 PM
21	Living in our more remote part of the shire I think waste management should be our responsibility.	5/30/2022 2:04 PM
22	Most people who do not compost in 2022 will not fill out this survey, rendering this survey inaccurate.	5/30/2022 1:17 PM
23	People should be encouraged to grow their own vegetables and compost their scraps. The cost of council mulch and compost should be subsidised to local gardeners.	5/20/2022 8:40 AM
24	Flood destroyed my gardens	5/20/2022 8:35 AM

3	Reflecting on my last house, I didn't have anywhere to put it. I felt back putting it in general waste. I also had palm fronds and garden item that could have been composted to create a great communal compost, that people would pay for.	6/24/2022 7:17 AM

5	I compost my kitchen scraps, but would love access to a green waste bin for some garden rubbish.	6/23/2022 4:56 PM
6	Green waste like weeds and branches etc produced from property maintenance can be too overwhelming at times, especially for single and or elderly people. A green waste bin would help with constant maintenance.	6/22/2022 1:39 PM
7	I do compost and mulch home debris but have lots of garden rubbish which is not suitable for either due to it's ability to grow from mulched cuttings or just weeds spreading if not disposed of completely.	6/20/2022 9:38 AM
8	Chooks deal with the rest!!	6/19/2022 5:16 PM
9	It takes too long to make usable compost in my tumbler, and in the warmer months it fills up so quickly it's hard to know what else to do with the food waste/garden cuttings. A community large composting process makes more sense	6/17/2022 8:25 AM

15	I have too much garden waste at times to compost. Things like palm fronds take too long to breakdown and can be difficult to mulch.	6/2/2022 9:31 PM
16	All kitchen waste goes to the worm farm. Garden waste goes into a big container and just keeps breaking down over time. I don't do anything to it or with it.	6/2/2022 10:24 AM
17	The wild and stray dogs get into the compost. I'm probably not doing it very well.	6/1/2022 6:45 PM
18	Not all household members are interested in separating rubbish components.	6/1/2022 6:43 AM
19	worm farms are fussy and our family makes too much waste for one farm, compost is only good for raw waste	5/31/2022 7:43 PM
20	Meat & bones don't go into compost and no facility available to dispose of these.	5/31/2022 7:25 PM
21	Nothing, composting is awesome. BUT, rats are weeds are a problem when not using a proper system, which can be hard to afford, so a subsidised worm farm / vermin-proof composter would be of huge benefit.	5/31/2022 11:22 AM
22	i dont know what to do with my meat scraps i dont want to mix them with compost	5/30/2022 7:32 PM

26	Managing organic waste should be compulsory or us rural dwellers with disincentives made to encourage everyone to be more environmentally responsible with all waste.	5/30/2022 2:04 PM
27	I have pets who would get into the compost and end up sick fr eating it and im worried abput rodents and snakes living in it. Also having a bin size full of garden waste all the time is too much for home compost.	5/30/2022 1:21 PM
28	We only have chickens so they consume our organic waste but they don't eat everything and we end up with rats and mice and birds eating the scraps	5/21/2022 9:57 PM
29	Bin for garden waste of weeds would be helpful	5/20/2022 7:30 PM
30	When it is wet and I can't mow, lack combination of wet and green matter.	5/20/2022 8:56 AM
31	Perhaps more education on how to compost correctly or maybe some families are very wasteful	5/20/2022 8:40 AM
32	Foxes and wild dogs smash open container, also difficult to keep excess water out	5/19/2022 6:37 PM
33	I can easily compost kitchen and food waste. However, a large amount of organic waste accumulates on acreage from branches, pruning, fallen trees, weeding etc which is of such volume that it cannot be composted without a great deal of chainsawing and mulching. So mostly, the high volume green waste ends up in sitting in large piles on the property which require either burning, removal by an excavator, expensive trailer trips to the tip, hire of expensive arborist chipping equipment or leaving the piles as they are to settle into weed infested ecosystems. The cost of removal of large amounts of green waste on rural acreages is, for me at least, largely prohibitive.	5/19/2022 1:10 PM
34	I find that i don't have enough time to effectively manage the compost bin that we have. There are alternative bin systems that are lower maintenance options which would be good to explore.	5/17/2022 11:51 AM
35	the wet weather this year has made our compost bin virtually unusable at the moment which is really challenging	5/17/2022 11:30 AM

11	I am not interested in having any green bin service. This in my opinion will increase my rates which is not applicable to me. I would simply be subsidising others.	6/6/2022 10:21 AM
12	Composting can be pretty exciting and addictive. If you get the right person to provide the information you would have most success. Geoff Lawton has 18 day compost tutorials that I found to be very educational and engaging.	6/5/2022 11:09 PM

22	Information line to call if have questions or an app can have on phone like a chatbot that can ask questions, or has all the categories listed in the previous question. In fact, a full waste bit would be cool, with info on all waste - batteries, oil, recycling options etc. could have links to community initiatives so if, for eg, people have more citrus fruit than they can use, there are people who make marmalades - ok that might be a stretch but it's a good idea and I'd help you design it if you want	5/30/2022 2:20 PM

32	Nothing its already sorted.	2/25/2022 5:10 AM
33	It would be a complete waste of ratepayers money. Most people in rural areas compost naturally by chooks, dogs gardens etc. We don't need another layer of Beaucecracy with a council work ethic.	2/24/2022 9:43 PM
34	I don't think people out of town need a green bin. They should compost, they have space. I don't want to pay extra for that service for myself or any one else. I would just love a red bin. We have to pay privately to take our rubbish to the dump. Maybe we could get a discount at the tip if we can't get it collected! We pay rates too!	2/24/2022 2:12 PM

184	I know lismore council has many issues at present given the floods, but even before the floods we in rural areas, especially Rock Valley Rd, Jiggi, Kerrong, Goolmangar have so much trouble actually getting our normal red and yellow bins emptied A green bin would be great and i support but will it be "too much" to get them actually emptied. Also what about getting a bin service for the areas who currently dont have any waste service. Maybe time and resources should be spent on supporting others in need first and making services available for all LOCALS	5/19/2022 12:43 PM
185	Some councils collect rural red bins weekly to make up for the absence of a green lid bins. instead of collecting red bins weekly, which encourages landfill, Councils could subsidize or provide at no cost, compost bins and/or worm farms to rural residents and educe red bin collection to fortnightly.	5/17/2022 12:27 PM
186	Assistance or advice on invasive weed management that spreads when composted. Organics collection service is inefficient for rural properties so encouraging composting at home is a more preferable option both economically and environmentally	5/17/2022 12:09 PM
187	I compost most of my waste however weedy species and some items such as meat scraps are difficult. Would a less frequent option be suitable or perhaps communal green bins in each locality?	5/11/2022 10:21 PM
188	No	5/9/2022 12:00 PM
189	A fortnightly service would help.	5/9/2022 8:58 AM
190	As a rural rate payer with our rates constantly increasing every year, we see no benefits. We don't have parks, footpaths, don't use the facilities so adding a green waste bin, really what's the point. Most of us don't have bins at our home, they're at the end of our roads. Even recycling is a pain in the bum. We have to load the rubbish into our cars just to get rid of it.	5/8/2022 10:26 AM
191	I think rates funded green bins are a great solution and most people will use them. This can then be turned into compost for sale. I also think there should be NO CHARGE for disposal of green waste when it is delivered by residents to the waste facility. This would definitely reduce green waste in hard waste bins.	5/7/2022 10:28 PM
192	A compost bin with helpful information on how to start, what to place in and not to place in the compost. Benefits of compost for your soil growing plants and vegetables. A in house caddy is also very handy to keep scraps in until you take out into the compost bin outside.	5/7/2022 9:27 PM

197	I truly believe if you don't encourage kerbside pickup people will start waste left and be smarter with their choices. Our house fills a rubbish bin maybe every 3weeks and our recycling bin is just full at 2 weeks. This should be encouraged. Have you ever thought of flipping it and asking	5/4/2022 8:05 PM people would you prefer to save money and not have an increase in cost of kerbside if the service was reduced...

198	I would really not like the kerbside green bin. I really don't need it. Between, compost, dog, cat, sheep and chickens, I have no need for it. However I'd love some kind of worm farm.	5/4/2022 7:08 PM

208	What about addressing general waste bins in these areas too? We pay a waste infrastructure charge on our rates and then also pay to dispose of general waste at the tip, very unfair that we get billed twice. Other rural councils waive tip fees for rural landholders!	2/26/2022 6:48 PM
